CIRI Will Reunite the IR Community at the 2023 Annual Conference

Toronto, Ontario – The Canadian Investor Relations Institute (CIRI), Canada’s national association representing investor relations professionals, is pleased to announce that the 2023 Annual Conference will be held in person on May 28-30, 2023 at the Hilton Toronto. This Conference will draw on investor relations, ESG and capital markets experts to deliver an engaging event that examines the transformational change the investor relations role has undergone.

“After several years of virtual events, including our annual conference that is the educational and networking event for Canadian IROs each year, it will be invigorating to reunite the IR community in person to explore how practices have evolved and to shape the future of the profession,” said Yvette Lokker, President & CEO, CIRI. “This event will allow the IR community to connect, share experiences and learn from one another through an interactive, in-person program.”

Building on past success, this event will include all the elements that make the Annual Conference a hallmark affair for Canadian IROs including: general and breakout sessions; panel discussions; interactive roundtables; opportunities to engage with suppliers; and fun and interactive social events that facilitate peer-to-peer connections.

With the shift to in person, the rates to attend the event are $1,295 for members and $1,895 for non-members. An early bird discount of $100 is available until February 17, 2023. To register, click here.

Service providers interested in attending the 2023 Annual Conference must register as an exhibitor or sponsor. To learn more about exhibiting and sponsoring, click here.

More details will be available on the soon-to-be-launched Annual Conference website.
